

Instructions for Receiving Wire Transfers

RBC Bank

Instructions for Receiving Wire Transfers

To insure a smooth and efficient process, there are a few things you need to know before initiating a wire.

Sending a wire to your RBC Bank account involves two steps.

- Step 1) The wire must first be sent through a Receiving/Intermediary Bank. This bank accepts the wire on RBC Bank's behalf.
- Step 2) The Receiving/Intermediary Bank then sends the wire to RBC Bank which is identified as the Beneficiary Bank.

There are two types of wire transfers which are determined by the currency being sent.

To select your wire transfer type, click on the link below for the type of currency being sent. Include your information, then print the completed form and provide it to the person originating the wire.

- 1) U.S. Funds wires
- 2) Non-U.S. Funds wires

